FIRST ACTION REJECTION

DRAWINGS

1. This application has been filed with drawings that are considered informal; however, said drawings are acceptable for examination and publication purposes. The review process for drawings that are included with applications on filing has been modified in view of the new requirement to publish applications at eighteen months after the filing date of applications, or any priority date claimed under 35 U.S.C. §§119, 120, 121, or 365.

CLAIM REJECTION — 35 U.S.C. §103(a)

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. §103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. §103(a) as being unpatentable over Dimitriadis 5,664,948 (09/09/1997) (herein referred to as "Dimitriadis").

As per claim 1, Dimitriadis (col. 2, ll. 1-67; col. 9, ll. 43-67; col. 10, ll. 1-20; col. 3, ll. 35-67; col. 4, ll. 1-10; col. 4, ll. 40-67; FIG. 1 through FIG. 8; the ABSTRACT; col. 1, ll. 40-67; col. 5, ll. 1-30; and col. 6, ll. 9-50; and whole document) shows the "advertisement information providing apparatus" of claim 1.

Dimitriadis lacks explicit recitation of the elements and limitations of claim 1, even though Dimitriadis shows same, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention that the disclosure of Dimitriadis cited above would have been selected in accordance with the elements and limitations of claim 1 because selection of such disclosed features would have provided means for "[delivering] data and information including advertising information to a receiving device . . . by reference to a time schedule, to current receiving device location . . . [and] by developing a profile for the users of each device" (see Dimitriadis (col. 2, Il. 1-21; and col. 9, Il. 47-50)).

Serial Number: 09/960,597 (Sakuma et al.) 4

Art Unit: 3622

As per dependent claims 2-8, Dimitriadis shows the method of claim 1 and subsequent base claims depending from claim 1.

Dimitriadis lacks explicit recitation of the elements and limitations of claims 2-8, even though the disclosure of Dimitriadis reasonably suggests same.

Official Notice is taken that both the concepts and the advantages of the elements and limitations of claims 2-8 were notoriously well known and expected in the art at the time of the invention. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include the elements and limitations of claims 2-8, because such elements and limitations would have provided means for "[delivering] data and information including advertising information to a receiving device . . . by reference to a time schedule, to current receiving device location . . . [and] by developing a profile for the users of each device . . . " (see Dimitriadis (col. 2, II. 1-21; and col. 9, II. 47-50)).

Independent claim 9 is rejected for substantially the same reasons as independent claim 1.

Dependent claim 10 is rejected for substantially the same reasons as dependent claims 3 & 7.
